Kate Altman named MSAA Assistant Principal of the Year

Henry E. Warren Elementary School AP earns MSAA 2023 honor

Kate L. Altman, Assistant Principal of Henry E. Warren Elementary School in Ashland, has been selected as this year's Assistant Principal of the Year. Kate has served at the elementary school for the past five years. Kate graduated from Keene State College with a Bachelor of Science in Education and Sociology. She also earned her Masters of Education from Lesley University and obtained her administration licensure from Bridgewater State University. Kate's career in public education spans from teaching Title 1 math to teaching second grade.

Prior to serving as Assistant Principal, Karen was an administration intern, Title 1 math teacher and second grade teacher.

Kate was nominated by Henry E. Warren Elementary School Principal Peter Regan who in his nomination wrote, "Our learning community needed to change and improve our reading instruction at our school. Kate brought a focus on research and developed a professional development plan that aggressively pushed our staff to grow and develop. Through her passion for education, and specifically reading instruction, she motivates and inspires me to challenge others and myself on a daily basis to improve instruction for children."

Kate lives in Sudbury with her beloved family. She has been married to Dave for sixteen years and together they have two children Colin, 12 and Brooke, 10.
